(I Will Hide Myself Away)

Smooth like a rolling crystal ball
Heading for a sight line
Straight towards a fall
No one will get through
No one will get through at all

The night sky illuminates it all
Like a distant fire fight
All is orchestral
Time is coming soon
Just to pass by you
By you

And I will hide myself away
Save all of these people for another day
Just to spite them all for another day

The moon comes down on me again Soon this mumbling train now slowly will begin Giving me this pain
This paralyzing pain again

The night sky illuminates it all
Like a distant fire fight
All is orchestral
Time is coming soon
Just to pass by you
Pass by you

And I will hide myself away
Save all of these people for another day
Just to spite them all for another day

Smooth like a rolling crystal ball

Save all of these people for another day
Just to spite them all for another day

much to the chagrin of everyone this day
And I am not much a friend this way
No, I'm not fit to wear that hat today

(I Will Follow)

Take the best the best is all that I can give and find a way so again I fall to me it means nothing at all but I rise again fear the pain

it's pretty, but it's oh so vain

And it shapes me
in the best
the fall of time
even if I die tonight

I will follow
I made my mind tonight
I'll make this bath the last good thing I died
and I, I'll be gone.

It's nothing else carry over what you can find a place that I just thought of what you said it's much too soon for all of them but not for you
in the best
even if I die

Tonight I will follow
I'll make this bath at last
and I
I'll be gone.
