

Ghosts

Casey Abrams

I'm not scared of ghosts no more
Not afraid of the dark anymore
Went to that haunted house and opened that door
But I'm still the same with you

Don't put my muddy shoes on the kitchen floor
Don't even double knot them anymore
Finally found out what a painkiller's for

But I'm still the same with you
I kept you hidden up inside
But you're far too beautiful to hide
I've changed in every way I knew how to
But I'm still the same with you

Don't wear my heart on my sleeve these days
Guess I got tired of it getting misplaced
Found out that love is too precious to waste
But I waste it all on you

Always traveling, I'm going somewhere
Any road I take is leading me here
Everything I do is up in the air

But I'm still the same with you
I kept you hidden up inside
But you're far too beautiful to hide
I've changed in every way I knew how to
But I'm still the same with you

You're the rock in the center of my universe
You're the second and third chance I don't deserve
I can be what I want but I know who I am

With you I'm not scared of ghosts no more
Not afraid of the dark anymore
Went to that haunted house
You were waiting by that door

And I'm still the same with you
I can keep you hidden up inside
And you're far too beautiful to hide
I can change in every way I know how to
But I'm still the same with you