

Undone

Casey James

Peace of mind sometimes depends
On the path your heart's been travelin'
Mine's been broken, mine's been bruised
Fallen hard a time or two
And up 'til now I didn't know who'd save me

I've searched around enough to know
About holding on and letting go
And finally I've found the one
That makes me come undone

Now the bad bad news don't sound so hard
Long lonely miles don't stretch so far
Ain't up all night praying for sleep
My empty pockets don't feel so deep
Whatever you're doing, girl, just keep it coming

I've searched around enough to know
About holding on and letting go
Finally I've found the one
That makes me come undone

Undone, like the clouds pouring out a perfect rain
Undone, like the grace of heaven healing my pain
You lying in my arms, me whispering your name
Won't ever be the same
It won't be the same

I've searched around enough to know
About holding on and letting go
Finally I've found the one
That makes me come undone

Oh you make me come undone
Come undone
