

Burn Your Hatred

Cass Elliot

I've had my say and now I'm through
I've just got to get myself away from you
You've twisted and you've turned my mind
Because of all the dark I find inside of you
'Side of you, got to let me lie

Burn your hatred out on someone else!

I don't need the things you say
You're bringing me down every day
As well as you
We're at the crossroads wet with tears
And I don't want to spend my years hating you
Hating you, got to let me lie

Burn your hatred out on someone else!

Although I've tried to get along
I know that my heart still belongs inside of you
And all this fighting ain't no use
Cause in the end I'll just refuse to part from you
Part from you ' got to let me lie

Burn your hatred out on someone else!
