

Until

Cassandra Wilson

how can i change your mind unravel the mystery that confines us silence is hiding the pain but deep in your soul you must know we've got to take a chance and let our spirits flow love is an elusive thing into every heart it sings whatever it takes to make it right no matter how hard, i will fight for you
I swear that it's true
I want the sweetness in life with you until this life is through such a bizarre twist of fate that something so simple still escapes us while anger and pride cloud your eyes this is a vision for two there's no one else to tell my deepest secrets to i don't want to live alone it would be a lonely song
I swear that it's true
