The hotel above and the street below People come and people go All the friends that we used to know

Ain't coming back Ain't coming back Ain't coming back

You say your heart has a rhythm Well see you got your secret on You say hey and nothing to hide You and your secret life

Don't look at the moon tonight
You'll never be never be Manhattan
Don't look at the moon tonight
You can never be never be never be Manhattan

Your badge and your suitcase on Your suit and your hair's not right Cause nobody knows this woman by your side

It's not me you know, it's a useful woman by your side It's not me you know, it's a useful woman by your side Manhattan

See your heart has a rhythm Well see you got your secret on She say hey and nothing to hide You and your secret life

Don't look at the moon tonight
You'll never be never be Manhattan
Don't look at the moon tonight
You can never be never be never be Manhattan

See your heart has a rhythm
You got your secret on
And you say you got nothing to hide
You, you, you and your secret life

You'll never be never be never be Manhattan Hollerin' at me hollerin' at you Hollerin' at me hollerin' at you

Liberty in the basement light
Free speech, lipstick and the moonlight
Howling to get me, howlin' to get you
In Harlem, in a dark back room
Dancing to a different tune
Howling at me, howling at you
