Once she came into my room, feathered hat an' all Wearing a warm wool shawl wrapped around her shoulders Two eyes like lights, milky marble whites looking up at me Looking for a way, Moons in an endless day

All I knew was with her then, no couldn't see the time As we drank down the wine to the last Sweet Scarlet How was I to wonder why or even question this Underneath her her kiss I was so unguarded Every bottle's empty now and all those dreams are gone Ah, but the song carries on, so holy

She was so much younger then, wild like the wind A gypsy with a grin from and old far away country but deep beneath her curls, Beneath this misty pearl, there was more to see

She could move mountains in the dark as silent as a knife She cut loose a life that she never no never really wanted All those days are frozen now and all those scars are gone Ah, but the song carries on, so holy

Come let us drink again, before the second show
I want you so to know there's no bridge between us
All those gates have opened now, and through the light has shon e

Ah, but the song carries on, so holy
