

Child of Sunsets

Catamenia

I throw away my life
and try to touch the darkness
I watch the burning clouds and the night falls inside me I breath the storms of winter and watch the light forever burning sky calls the past winds to wake me from insanity.

Light kiss the blindness and saw child of sunset shall the black winds rise in darkness
where the red rivers burning fire... fire make me burn.

And when the night goes down then the child of sunset will coming...
And the shadows scream when we will be together or alone...

I throw away my life
and try to touch the darkness
I watch the burning clouds
and the night falls inside me.
