The Heart of Darkness

Catamenia

Frost came and took your heart of darkness You're lost, fear creeps in and let it start Night cracks the spine of dying day Fight but you can't make it go away

Fill your soul with ravenous fire Kill the light and reborn for the light End up times among the pathetic lies Rise above the majestic life

Open mind for a newfound world to be the part of our herd

Follow us, the heart of darkness Follow us, no more mortal Come with us, the heart of darkness Follow us and you're free

Blind was the son who promised us the new kingdom Died by our sins, but took away your freedom The word was spread with inquisitions blades Life for sale, they decided dying days
