I just can't console myself Everytime I go away from you I just can't take hold of myself Everytime I go away from you I just can't compose myself I just can't dispose of my time And without attitude There is no reason or rhyme And everybody says since I left you That I look so happy - well I do Another day a better mood What does it prove When my friends say I'm missing you Nobody loves like you do No-one annoys me like you Nobody studys me and watches me The way that you do Nobody stands in your place Since you've been out of my face My friends took your view If that's some consolation to you Gotta take control of myself Gotta turn my head and find someone new But the moment I am out of your sight I'm only looking for you Ain't no consolation at all Knowing I can go and do as I please Well I miss your everyday charm And I miss the insanity Nobody loves like you do No-one annoys me like you Nobody studies me and watches me The way that you do Nobody stands in your place Since you've been out of my face My friends took your view If that's some consolation to you And everbody says since I left you That I look so happy - well I do Another day a better mood What does it prove When my friends say I'm missing you Since I walked out and left you Lost all my glitter and all I hope my freedom now is worth This unpredictable love I'm an emotional waste I've fallen flat on my face It's all coming true So that's some consolation A small consolation.....
