

I'll Cover You

Catie Curtis

I don't know you too well on this cross country train
But I can feel it in my fingers all the way down through my veins
And at this hour I can't see you, but I hear your voice is true
I can tell you now angel, I'll cover you.

If you're worried about the money well I'll try and help you out
And if you're worried about your body well let's go and find out
If you're worried in your heart that no one is loving you
I can tell you now angel, I'll cover you.

If you believe there's a station at the end of this line
If you can really feel it, and you can still cry
If you believe that I am talking
Believe that this is true
I can tell you now angel, I'll cover you.
