

Who You Are

Cats on Trees

When the people sigh
Something makes me want to know
When the shadows fade away
Something makes me want to know

Who you are

Something is with us
I feel it just behind
When the shadows fade away
Something makes me want to know

Who you are

No one can explain
This heat I feel inside
When the moon shows its face
I know you're there
It's time to let the lies
Slip away along the pain
And your arms around my body, I feel you now

I wanna know who you are
Who you are
No one can explain it anyway

Never be afraid
Sometimes you have to lie down
To make the shadows fade away
Sometimes you have to let go
It's time to let the lies
Slip away along the pain
Your arms around my body, I feel you now

Who you are
Who you are

No one can explain
This heat I feel inside
When the moon shows its face
I know you're there
It's time to let the lies
Slip away along the pain
And your arms around my soul

Tell me who you are
You have to tell me who you are

No one can explain
How dreams can show the way
And the wind is full of words
I know you're there
It's time to let the cries
Slip away along then pain
Your arms around my soul
I feel you now
