

Fight This War

Cavo

The feeling cold night
Healing the whole night
Waiting for the end to feel the light
[?] burnout praying to come down
No one needs to feel alone tonight

You fight this war to heal to bones
And I'll fight this war to bring you home
When we couldn't find the words to say
Nothing seems to go your way
You don't need to face this all alone
I'll fight this war to bring you home
To bring you home
[?] burned out

The stains we leave our shadows on the ground
Voices so loud
The TV turned down
Words we need just changing of the sound

You fight this war to heal to bones
And I'll fight this war to bring you home
When we couldn't find the words to say
Nothing seems to go your way
You don't need to face this all alone
I'll fight this war to bring you home
To bring you home

Show me there's a life worth saving
Cause something in my mind's not changing
Maybe there's a love to save a soul
Show me there's a life worth saving
Cause something in my mind's not changing
Maybe there's a love to save a soul
We couldn't find the words to say
Nothing seems to go your way
You don't need to face this all alone
You never planned to leave this world
You fight this war to heal to bones
I'll fight this war to bring you home
To bring you home
