

Into The Night

Cavo

She always seems to throw away every thing you feel inside Away into the night she rides; she hides her lies if she learns to sing a different song everyone just goes along
,
but they always seem to fade away now all we need, all we see now she's falling asleep I'm falling apart the words that she speaks cut right through my heart

don't make this harder then it needs to be

Never seem to recognize faves that we hold inside they never seem to fade away, away now all we need is all we see now she's falling asleep; I'm falling apart from words that she speaks cuts right through my heart don't make this harder then it needs to be, for sleep won't com e

I can't be there waiting it makes me so nervous, anxious, and a lone
I can't be there waiting makes me so nervous

she always seems to throw away everything you feel inside way into the night she rides; she hides her lies she falling asleep, I'm falling apart from words that she speaks cuts right through my heart
don't make this harder then it needs to be for sleep won't come til I'm free; my sleep won't come la da da da la da da da la da da da oh lda da da da da