

We are no evil don't fear.
We have the truth you must hear.
We've created your world.
Like in tales you have heard.

When everything was still fine.
In the course of our time.
We created the sword.
And four stones gave the force.

That force was the key.
To bring life everywhere we could see.

We are those real spirits you know.
And those voices in altar were wrong.
We helped you survive years ago.
We gave you the power so strong.

Your land, is the youngest from our creation.
The best of this whole generation.
It's the shelter to all those four powers.
The haven from the darkest souls.

Then, something went wrong.
We made land very strong.
All they wanted was death.
Till the end of last breath.

When someone's using the force
Darkness will find it's source
Evil knows where you are
Where they come it's not far

That force was the key.
Bring life everywhere we could see.

We are those real spirits you know.
And those voices in altar were wrong.
We helped you "to" survive years ago.
We gave you the power so strong.
