

Legacy of hate Part II

Celesty

[--- Battlefield ---]

[Edel:]

Running through the battlefield
I hear a voice in my head
I see a man behind the shield.
My head's a mess, different voices tell that I
Should leave and be a great man
But should I stay and be a warrior

Like my father
He is fighting for this land
I must stay, I must leave
I don't know, gods help me please

[Voices:]

Fly alone
To a place where you can be a warrior
Fly alone
To a place where you can be a hero
It's a place far away you must leave
You cannot stay, spread your wings and
Fly away from home.

[Edel:]

Again I hear a voice in my head
I see a battleship abandoned it's a head
That voice in my head tells I should leave
I go to the ship my destiny is here

Like my father
He's fighting for his land
But I must leave, I must go, I don't know
Voice told me so.

[Voices:]

Fly alone
To a place where you can be a warrior
Fly alone
To a place where you can be a hero
It's a place far away you must leave
You cannot stay, spread your wings and
Fly away from home.

[---The departure ---]

[Amardon:]

I'm fighting for my land
With this sword in my hand
Killing enemies, they fall one by one
Blood everywhere, guts and bodies
Battle rages on, what's that?
That's my son!

Those bastards, they won't take my son
I see Edel in that window
That ship is going,

I must stop them from leaving
My son is in there.

I want to keep my son, I want to make him a warrior
I want to hold my son, I want to make him a hero

To fight for the good
To fight proudly by my side
Protecting this world
And stones with sword in his hand
I want to keep my son
But soon he will be gone
I have to stop that ship
Or I will never see my son

The ship is leaving
I have to run and try to stop it go
I won't let the enemy
I won't let the enemy take my son
Oh please gods help now
They try to steal my only one
The ship is leaving

I want to keep my son, I want to make him a warrior.
I want to hold my son, I want to make him a hero.

To fight for the good
To fight proudly by my side
Protecting this world
And stones with sword in his hand
I want to keep my son
But soon he will be gone
I have to stop that ship
Or I will never see my son

[--- Ride of Amardon ---]

[Solo]

[--- Ending? ---]

[Amardon:]
As the battle rages on
I rode through it like the wind
Now gates of Sendell lie before me

Still they fighting for the stones
Those are kept inside these walls
But I'm only worried about my son

The final enemy, meet my sword
Just before the gates of the fortress
I see the enemies they're still trying
But I have to see my wife

Oh please gods give me strength
Now I'm entering the gates
Running up the stairs to my room
What is this I see
No!!

Few hours ago
So Shemin just told

Edel pushed her to the floor
And then run out from the door

Now I have found seed of darkness he is bound
There's no cure for my son
Or for plague, that they have done

Years ago, so I've been told
That the blood of our enemies was put into our souls
Now I have found seed of darkness, we are bound
There's no cure for my son or for plague that they have done.
And for me everything is gone.

[Amardon:]
What happened
Please don't die!
They took our son!

[Shemin:]
No they didn't take him
Edel took the stones himself
And left...
