

I Believe You

Celldweller

This is my excuse to testify
Been a beaten down boy
And I don't know why
That's all right
That's all right

Well the truth was a lie and I don't know
How it got me to follow, whoa
And it's true that the lie
That was sold me
Will never let me go

What I needed you to say
Was hidden far away
This is why I've had to justify
My head is shaken, yeah but that's all right
What I needed to believe
Was hidden far from me
That's all right 'cause I believe you

Take advantage of a malleable mind
Been a weakened sucker
Boy without a spine
But that's all right
That's all right

Tell me that I've got to fight your fights
And now I'm a bleeding boy without a life
But that's all right
That's all right

Well the truth was a lie and I don't know
How it got me to follow, whoa
And it's true that the lie
That was sold me
Will never let me go

What I needed you to say
Was hidden far away
This is why I've had to justify
My head is shaken, yeah but that's all right
What I needed to believe
Was hidden far from me
That's all right 'cause I believe you

That's all right
It's almost
Psycho

Don't feel bad because I won't cry
I'll do your will
And not ask why
But that's all right because I believe you

What I needed you to say
Was hidden far away

My head is shaken, yeah but that's all right
What I needed to believe
Was hidden far from me
That's all right
That's all right

What I needed you to say
Was hidden far away
My head is shaken, yeah but that's all right
What I needed to believe
Was hidden far from me

That's all right 'cause I believe you
That's all right
