

Sapphire Sun

Cemetery of Scream

You bore witness to the frozen statues eyes of passion that lost their heat is this gallery of ghost-tunes the awakening of your dream

Here we've stayed, here we've lain forever undone
In the pale realm of the sapphire sun

And every doorstep and every face proves to be a barrier much too hard to break

I shall drift on till the bitter end

I need no shooting star, need no rainbow path
Not alive

And every word and every moment lips and arms of someone else's lovers
And every breath keeps you dormant
In the crystal bedroom for no one to reach
