

My Eyes

Chanté Moore

Whew

So you say you wanna know
How I really feel

Well baby look into my eyes (will)
My eyes (tell you)
My eyes (what I)
My eyes (feel)
No matter (no matter, what I say)
I don't care. (Care)
You'll always know the truth by looking into my eyes

They say, their the windows to the soul
Tells it all and everybody knows
That the older you get the wiser you grow
I suppose I been through the most but,
I smile in spite of the pain
My eyes get red sometimes from all the cryin
But if you stay boy,
Each day I live. From the depths of my soul
I promise to give.

My heart (will)
My heart (tell you)
My heart (what I)
My heart (feel)
No matter (no matter, what I say)
I don't care (I don't care)
You always know the truth by listening to my heart

Will, be for you,
Only if you want it to
We go back and forth once in a while
So I shouldn't have to say if you should know how by now
How to act, when I mad at you
You know exactly what to do
Just give me an hour or two
You'll know that I'm over it when I give you

My Kiss
My Kiss (will tell you)
My kiss (what I)
My Kiss (feel)

No matter (no matter, what I say)
I don't care (I don't care)
You always know exactly what it is by my kiss

Do you ever wonder where love comes from? (Where it comes from)
Is it real? Or do you just imagine?
Are we dreamin'? Are we really here?
Oh well?
If there's any fear or doubt in your mind
Let me make this one thing clear

That you're all in my soul
All in my mind

If you don't believe it, well baby look into my

My eyes
