

One More Time

Chanté Moore

I lie half awake, late at night
I reach out to touch you feel you by my side
and I reach, and I reach, but I never get to feel you Will I ever get to feel you again, again

Just one more time
One more moment
To take you in my arms
One more chance
One more kiss
Before I wake to find you gone
One more time
Before I have to face another bad day,
and my heart breaks again

It's only a dream
but it's all so real Don't want it to end but I know it will
So I pray, and I pray
Every night I'm on my knees Begging for the chance to see you again, again

Just one more time
One more moment
To take you in my arms
One more chance
One more kiss
Before I wake to find you gone
One more time
Before I have to face another bad day,
and my heart breaks again

Oh one more time Before I have to face another day,
and my heart breaks again
again...