"We are passing now to phase VI. The sequence is complete."

Cendor looked at the screen making a strange grimace as he pushed the button.

"Farewell my friends. Your path is cleared now".

"At last we can move"!

"This planet seems so wild and primitive. I suspect life has already manifested here, before us.

I wonder how we are going to appear in the optic sensors of a creature from this place"?

"Soon Mayon O and Gaia will realize that we won't bring them back,

At least as soon as they were expecting to.

Maybe they will think that we had a problem on the laboratory. Anyway, they won't remain alone. Soon millions will follow, to keep company

To the frozen stars while a new Ahrem will be rebuilt from its ashes"...
