Big Iron Door

Charles Manson

Clang bang clang Went the big iron door They put me in a cell With a concrete floor Nine other men in that cell with me Moanin' their fate with destiny

Clang bang clang Clang bang clang clang Early in the mornin' At the crack of dawn They wake us to the tune of a bong bong bong Line up for chow Munchin' hard bread Drinkin' black coffee with that noise in my head

Clang bang clang Clang bang clang bang clang The judge said to me, now boy You had it
