

You Can Tell the World

Charley Pride

Tonight I'm farther from your arms than ever
I'm on a one way road that leads nowhere
And though you'll never take me back into your heart
You can tell the world I'll always care.

You can tell the world I'll spend some lonely nights
Tell them that I'll go to sleep in tears
And even though I know that you don't love me
You can tell the world I'll always care.

The heart that you once thrilled when you just touched me
Still care these memories everywhere I go
And if you never make it back into my arms
You can take the world I'll miss you so.

You can tell the world I'll spend some lonely nights
Tell them that I'll go to sleep in tears
And even though I know that you don't love me
You can tell the world I'll always care...
