

Behind Your Eyes

Charlie Daniels

Here you come again and here I go
Down that same old street I already know
That same sweet voice and those same old lies
I'm drawn into the world behind your eyes.

And I try to run away
But I know it's only try
When everything I could ever want
Is there behind your eyes
Behind your eyes.

Seeing you this way it all comes down
Thinking how it was the first time around
And when I feel that feeling again
I have no chance, I must give in.

And I try to run away
But I know it's only try
When everything I could ever want
Is there behind your eyes
Behind your eyes.

And I try to run away
But I know it's only try
When everything I could ever want
Is there behind your eyes,
(Behind your eyes)
(Behind your eyes)
(Behind your eyes)
