

One By One

Charlie Louvin

My plans and hopes have tumbled down
My castle of dreams plunged to the ground
How can you face me after what you've done
You've shattered my dreams one by one

One by one you broke each vow you made
It was you who lied it was me who paid
As sure as there's a heaven beyond the sun
We'll pay for our lies one by one

How can you go to sleep at night
Don't know memories make you long for daylight
You'll pay the price after having your fun
You'll regret each mistake one by one

One by one you broke each vow you made
