

Yellow Blues

Charlie Robison

Make or break don't cause a quake
You don't want no one to awake
And take their cue

Well promises are overrated
Vows have just become outdated
Ain't it true

Well find yourself an easy way
Nobody's gonna make you stay
And see it through

Chorus:
Maybe cause you're yella
Maybe that's the reason that I got the blues

Well, find a clown and watch him drown
The one that never had a frown
There ain't no glue

To make him smile to all your friends
And help him redefine your sins
And get a clue

Wrap yourself in cellophane
To keep your pretty from the rain
But I see right through

Repeat Chorus:

I guess you'll get another chance
To make the ones you need to dance
To different tunes

And you'll find a way to lose the day
That's gonna gonna come your way
They'll get you soon

Bad things they come to those who wait
So baby don't you hesitate
It's your balloon

Repeat Chorus 2x
