

Rage and Revenge

Cheap Sex

Every moment I have my eyes on you
You lost my trust - I lost my faith in you
Our friendship began when we were young
Us against a world where we did not belong

A bond that was once held together in trust
Has been shattered by lies and reduced to dust
Glad your knife was sharp when you stabbed my back
So it can be used against you when I strike back

You'll never see me coming - my revenge
You'll never see me coming - my revenge
You'll never see me coming - my revenge
You'll never see me coming - my revenge, my rage and revenge

Together it seemed like we could not be touched
But the price of a friend is sometimes too much Every word that you spoke and every bond that was broken
With such disregard for the paths I have chosen
You may have fooled me once - You won't fool me again
Keep one eye opened - you'll get you in the end...
