It was a masquerade at Mardi Gras
That was the only trip that I recall
Every time I turned around at all
There was you

Some days are easier said than done Always expecting something's wrong I'd rather live alone than drag this on

Take your time, please lay your hands on me
Don't wanna be alone, oh no
A mask behind the face and then you're gone
Oh yeah, comes a time when you're better off alone, you're on your own

I've got a kaleidoscope of memories Visions of you locked up inside of me Can't you see

We once collided like a broken wheel So undecided what was real Maybe a crash somehow has sex appeal Whatever turns you on

Take your time, please lay your hands on me Don't wanna be alone, oh no A mask behind a face and then you're gone Oh yeah, comes a time when you're better off alone

One down, one to go
Oh no, playin' in a carnival your time is gone
One down, one to go
Oh no, playin' in a carnival, you're all alone
One down, one to go
Oh no, you're on your own
