

Missing You Already

Chesney Hawkes

I thought my mind would be clear by now
I thought my heart would be so rock steady
I thought our love wasn't real somehow, but
I'm missing you, missing you already

Just like everybody, head in the clouds
Cause nothing ever lasts forever

Had my fill every night, I was doing alright
I thought I had everything
But then you came along showed me I was all wrong
Then left me, to see what a fool I've been

Oh I thought my mind would be clear by now
I thought my heart would be so rock steady
I thought our love wasn't real somehow, but
I'm missing you, missing you already, yeah
I'm missing you, missing you already

Whatcha doin', doin' to me
Cause I don't recognize the feeling
Baby whatcha think you're doin'
I've never seen the part of me that you're revealing

Life was so black and white
Till that beautiful night
I knew exactly where I stood
But now that's all behind
There's no doubt in my mind
Girl you got me and you've got me good

Oh I thought my mind would be clear by now
I thought my heart would be so rock steady
I thought our love wasn't real somehow, but
I'm missing you, missing you already, yeah
I'm missing you, missing you already

It's not how it should be
It's not like I planned
The shine in your eyes
The touch of your hand
The sound of your name
I don't understand, I don't understand

Oh I thought my mind would be clear by now
I thought my heart would be so rock steady
I thought our love wasn't real somehow, but
I'm missing you, missing you already, yeah
I'm missing you, missing you already
