Everything

Chester See

She loved and left me Still she kept me Wanting more, but feeling empty Did she have to go? Will I ever know?

Love and leave me She deceived me The way she kissed Was so misleading I thought that she might stay Then she went away

Before I closed the chapter to your name There's a couple of things I never got to say

Your eyes are wonderful Your smile is too Your laugh's contagious And your heart is true There's beauty in your touch And your kiss is love You're everything that every guy dreams of You're everything That makes me fall in love

It's been some time But still I find I'm struggling with our Last goodbye

I thought this love would last Now I'm living in the past Cause it's just me And memories of how my heart Would skip a beat Whenever you were near Now you're never here

Before I find the strength to let this go There's a couple of things I need for you to know

Your eyes are wonderful Your smile is too Your laugh's contagious And your heart is true There's beauty in your touch And your kiss is love You're everything that every guy dreams of You're everything That makes me fall in love

Your eyes are wonderful Your smile is too Your laugh's contagious And your heart is true Yeah, there's beauty in your touch And your kiss is love

You're everything Yes You're everything You're everything That makes me fall in love Yeah, in love
