

You Will Be Loved

Chester See

Sometimes you try just a little harder but it's only harder that you fall sometimes you give just a little more to only see what you've seen before but you knew deep down inside that you would not decide sometimes it's hope that lets you down you scream her name but she's not around sometimes it's faith that steers you wrong you can't let go you're holding on

but you knew deep down inside
that you would not decide

Lost among the broken hearts they're torn they're crushed, they need new parts but no one seems to have a clue what to say, what to do

But I'm standing here to take in every word so dry your tears I know sometimes it's just too much but as long as I'm around you will be loved as I'm around you will be loved [x6]