

Far Away From You

Chicane

You say I'm falling down, I know
That I can't stop you crying if you fall, if you love
The same old feeling is back, you know
I always see you coming. Do you feel same again?

But I can see you watching me and saying there's no chance that
We would rise again and fall no more
You feel it in the air

Because I will never be lost without you now Remember where you found me, I was cold and dark around me
But then I will always be far away from you Tomorrow feels uneasy and I wind up at the start once again

The feeling can't go on, so I say Nothing really happened, but I know that is wrong
I feel restless, empty... Now I know
Sometimes there's no answers, and sometimes we're wrong

But I can see you watching me and saying there's no
chance that
We would rise again and fall no more
You feel it in the air
