

Clockwork I hear the sound of the bell
The more I push the more I forget
I'm in the mood to lose myself
The more I push the closer I get
I started off small
But you knew it wouldn't stay that way
I've tripled the amount three times over
Don't know where it's taking me
Every day I fly just a little higher
I want to float forever
And leave this world behind
I traveled long and windy roads
The more I see the more I fear
There's only one thing in this world
That makes everything crystal clear
I'll keep the earth below
Drifting through eternity.