

Time Is Running Out

Chimaira

I used to feel invincible
Nothing could stop me
Now the smallest things are crippling
Where did my passion go?
Why don't I dream anymore?
Is there anything real out there?
I've lost all faith I had before
How much more can I take
Sick of making the same mistakes
These memories have torn my heart
Now time is running out
It's hard to face the facts
Head hurts from thinking
All of this could have been avoided
I had to destroy it all
I had to start a new
What is lurking around the corner?
This arrow of time is irreversible
This endless loop repeating infinitely
I'm swallowed by the storm.
