Without The Love

Shelter from the hard rain in the night Shelter from the hard rain by your side Very nearly perfect by your side I take you in my arms now, hold you tight Where in the world would we be Without the love you give How can we live without Without the love you give Shelter in the hard times of no work Shelter in the hard times and you're there Somebody tie a red rose in your hair Take you in my arms now, take you there

China Crisis