

God Bless My Socially Retarded Friends

Chinawoman

Your eyes
Never got used to life
I love your eyes
They never got used to life
We met
On the periphery
A gang of loners is
The only gang for me

How can it be?
That it only takes a second
For life to scatter all
The thoughts we have collected
I love your eyes
They never cease to be overwhelmed
God bless my socially retarded friends

Who could ever have foreseen
Such a funny looking face
Would be standing over me
Now it ends with your funny face
Who could ever have foreseen
It would end with your funny face

It's true we will remember
It's true we will forget

How can it be?
That it only takes a second
For life to scatter all
The thoughts we have collected
I love your eyes
They never cease to be overwhelmed
God bless my socially retarded friends
