Battle Of The World

Chinchilla

They praise their new untouchable leader His wish is their supreme command They all are only his small faithful followers There is no judge for what they have done

Are we so much worse than wild dreaded animals No-one on earth is born to wipe out his own kind Only the human race wages stupid holy wars For the rich and their silly, damned mind

Don't you see the unspeakable suffering Don't you see the terrible fear Their beloved childhood, taken away Without any feeling for human rights

KILL IT'S THEIR FIGHT IN THE NAME OF THE CROSS THEY BRING US THE END KILL IT'S OUR END NO-ONE OF US WILL EVER ESCAPE

Well, we are all under the devil's command No-one knows where the journey will go No-one to escape, Satan's sign on their mind Leading them straight to their end

From New York to Paris, from England to Brazil Everyone is heading for the big holy war So we pay with our lives and they grab their gold 'Cause millions of dead soldiers tell no tales

Don't you see the incredible lies Don't you see the world of terror Their future has been taken away Well, no time's left, we must go back
