

Sometimes in life you'll fall apart
Sometimes in life you'll break your heart
One day you'll realise that you'll be alright

Have you ever trusted someone that left you on your back?
Loved someone that just never loved you back?
Ever lusted something you can't have?
Tryna live right just with the devil on your back
I'm so young but my life's so nuts
I've come across a couple of two faced cunts
Come across a couple of gold digging sluts
But I don't even drop them a nut
Do you ever wake up like, what do I work for?
I'm worth a lot more than I work for Just saving up for something you can't afford
But having it's such a lovely thought
Ever warred with your closest of people?
Over the root of all evil
Like sometimes I think my life's worthless
Besides spitting bars, what is my purpose?

Sometimes in life you'll fall apart
Sometimes in life you'll break your heart
One day you'll realise that you'll be alright

Sometimes I just fall to cry
Thinking of my loved ones that died
Their red letters on the fridge
Water in my fam's eyes
Thinking how I'm gonna make it right
Everything will be alright!
Then again it might not be
And from the one who lives his life properly
It's funny that they're looking up to Chip
But Chip feels to jump off a bridge
But fly not die cause I don't think I'm suicidal
Slim Shady Chip teenagers' new-icidal
But sometimes I need my own space
But everybody's all up in my face
Managements on my case
Yeah I like getting paid
But I don't want an interview today
There's only so much my mind can take
And my ends with the friends too phase and snakes

Sometimes in life you'll fall apart
Sometimes in life you'll break your heart
One day you'll realise that you'll be alright
