

Reason

Chris August

Lady does he love you like I love you is he crazy 'bout you baby
And baby did you tell him what you told me 'bout you thinking 'bout me lately Don't tell me what you want, don't you say maybe Just tell me when you've done what you said you would do for me
That's why I

I tried to change it, tried to erase it but I'm always coming back to you
You tried to take it then rearrange it cause you always play them games you do You say to believe it, you feel it but there's only one thing that is true
It's that I've got a reason that I've got a reason with you

I understand it's hard, but understand my heart has waited for a long time And even though you told me no I never took it cause I knew that you were not right I tried chase away the thoughts inside my mind But now I've got a problem, gotta solve it cause I caught you in this love crime
That's why I

I tried to change it, tried to erase it but I'm always
coming back to you
play them games you do
You say to believe it, you feel it but there's only one thing that is true
It's that I've got a reason that I've got a reason with
you

I ain't gonna be the man on the side Holding out for what was never right Cause I can wait to see what love will do for me
But I'm not some man that's a back up plan That's here for the ride

I tried to change it, tried to erase it but I'm always
coming back to you
You tried to take it then rearrange it cause you always
play them games you do
You say to believe it, you feel it but there's only one
thing that is true
It's that I've got a reason that I've got a reason with you
