

I'd Find You

Chris Cagle

In a crowd, in the dark
I would walk straight to your heart
Without any hesitation
Every turn, every town
Every highway I go down
Baby, you're my destination
And even if nowhere was where every road lead me to

I'd find you
I'd find you
In the day or the night, in the black or the white
In the red of a rose of the depths of the ocean blue
I'd find you

Even if you and I
Never met, still I know I'd find
You among the millions
It's beyond my control
Like a magnet pullin' my soul
Across the great division
And even if I lost my way in this world I walk through

All my life I need you next to me
'Cause in your eyes I see my destiny
And I'd find you
Yeah I'd find you
In the face of a child, in the warmth of a smile
On the first day of spring when the flowers grow wild
Every song ever sung about bein' in love
Every kiss, every hug, every touch
Anytime, anyplace, in the whole human race
In the sweet memories and the ones yet to be
In the wrong and the right and the beauty that lies in the truth
h
I'd find you
Yeah I'd find you
