My love goes on and on $\ensuremath{\mathsf{a}}$

There's only so many stars in the night

That can make up a milky way

And there ain't more than twenty four long hours in a day

But they say everything has a limit

That ain't exactly true

'Cause there ain't a limit to the love in my heart

Or the way that I feel about you

Even when the pyramids are gone

My love goes on and on $\ensuremath{\mathsf{a}}$

Well I got two hundred thousand miles

On a rusty old beat up truck

And I hate to say but there's gonna come a day

When I'm gonna have to give her up

But darlin' since I met you

Well here is how it is

I could live with losing everything

But I would die without your kiss

So if you think this fire we lit inside

Will burn out, you're wrong

My love goes on and on $\ensuremath{\mathsf{n}}$

I know that we can't spend

Every waking hour together

But I can hold you tonight

And love you forever

Every time I think of what we've got

All I do is smile

'Cause the beginning to the end of time

Compared to this is a little while

I've heard raindrops'll turn into oceans

And oceans'll turn to dust

But there ain't a single force in the world that'll have an eff ect on us

It may be that the rugged Rocky Mountains don't last long

But my love goes on and on.
