Enough Is Enough

Chris Crocker

I gave my all
To have to hold
You through it all
You stabbed my soul
You left so fast
You didn't come back
Now you're gone
I turned to stone

So many things I'd say
If you were in front of me
So many things I'd say
But I can't stand the pain
Nothing ever mattered to me
The way you did

'Cause when the going gets tough
And all the love is done
I'm sick of all the crying over this dumb stuff
It's time I stand up
Say what you did was fucked up
I know it's hard to say
Enough is enough
Enough is enough

I built these walls
So tall and so bold
When I was lost
They kept out the cold
When I felt trapped
And I was all I had
When I was done wrong
I grew so strong

So many things I'd say
If you were in front of me
So many things I'd say
But I can't stand the pain
Nothing ever mattered to me
The way you did

'Cause when the going gets tough
And all the love is done
I'm sick of all the crying over this dumb stuff
It's time I stand up
Say what you did was fucked up
I know it's hard to say

'Cause when the going gets tough
And all the love is done
It's time I stand up

This is why, this is why
I never let people in
All broken hearted
Broken hearted
And so frozen
If I ever fall in love again
No I won't fall for the things you said
If I ever fall in love again
I swear I'll do things different

'Cause when the going gets tough
It's time I stand up

'Cause when the going gets tough
It's time I stand up
