

Perfect Lover

Chris Isaak

I called your name but all in vain, I could not find you
You told me once that you were mine, need I remind you
With change of heart you looked away to find another
I stand alone again, I've lost my perfect lover

Every night I still dream of you
It's the same dream I must go through
I hold you but you let me go
I don't know, I don't know

Every night I still dream of you
It's the same dream I must go through
I hold you but you let me go
I don't know, I don't know

When I woke you held me close you whispered sweetly
It's just a dream, it's you I love and you completely
I smiled to hear your words that there could be no other
That you had found your man of dreams your perfect lover

Every night I'll dream with you
And each day I'll be there with you
I hold you and never let you go
For now I know, you love me so

Perfect lover
