

Cry Lonely

Chris Knight

When the rain runs down your window
And you can't hold back your tears
When you're so afraid to be alone
You know I'm always right here

You cry lonely, and I come runnin
I come to your rescue, chase your blues away
You cry lonely, but you don't really want me
And I won't be there one of these days

You always say your heart is breakin
And you hear the wolf outside your door
But I know you're just usin me
Till you don't need me anymore

And you cry lonely, and I come runnin
I come to your rescue, chase your blues away
You cry lonely, but you don't really want me
And I won't be there one of these days

Someday when you know you really love me
You're gonna cry my name, and I'll be gone

But you cry lonely and I come runnin
I come to your rescue, chase your blues away
You cry lonely, but you don't really want me
And I won't be there one of these days

No I won't be there, one of these days

And I won't be there, call my name
I won't be there one of these days
