

Caballo Diablo

Chris LeDoux

Wild as a coastal barronca swift as the wind blowing free
With two eyes like fire brands that glow in the night Somewhere up there he's waiting for me And he knows that I'm coming' for him and I just can't rest til l I find That raven black stallion that wears no man's brand with a wild restless spirit like mine
They call him Caballo Diablo half-horse half-devil they say Caballo Diablo the outlaw up a top the Sierra Madre

Two men before tried to take him they had their chance one by o ne
But each met his fate when those flashing' black hooves Brought death 'neath the Mexican sun Still I can't leave I must find him you fool of a horse can't y ou see Well I may be half man but the other half's devil and you're ju st exactly like me
They call him Caballo Diablo...

Even the breezes stopped moving hush now be still Don't make a sound stay close to the ground cause he's waitin' just over that hill Downwind behind him move quickly do it fast now he's starting t o stir
Grab a handful of mane and up on to his back And start raking him down with your spurs But try as he will he can't shake me as over the precipice we g o
To shed the life blood of a horse and a man on the rocky sierra below
They call him Caballo Diablo...
