

New York Time

Chris Mann

On this New York City day
Kiss me goodbye at the gate
My plane is waiting to take me away
One more time I breathe you in
Don't know when I'm back again
Just say you'll be waiting.
waiting, waiting

Baby, we're onto something
Miles and minutes melt into nothing
I'm on the other side, of the world tonight
But in this heart of mine I'm on New York time, I'm on your time

The Paris air the streets of Rome
Don't feel the same when I'm alone
You're still the place I want to call home
And I'll be counting every second til the moment that you're in it
Just say you'll be waiting (waiting)
And I'll be waiting

Baby, we're onto something
Miles and minutes melt into nothing
I'm on the other side, of the world tonight
But in this heart of mine I'm on New York time, I'm on your time

And I'll be just killing time under these skies
Til I see the city skyline in your eyes
And I'll be waiting.

Baby, we're onto something
Miles and minutes melt into nothing
I'm on the other side, of the world tonight
But in this heart of mine I'm on New York time, I'm on your time
