

Pretty Girl

Chris Mann

Pretty Girl, what did they do to you?
You tried to drink their truth,
but it wouldn't go down
because it never felt right.
All you could taste was blindness and lies.
For your heart to survive, you'd hide who you were.
You've been so alone on this earth.

When forever's too far away,
And you think nothing's ever gonna change,
And you can't wait to run away, baby, stay.
And when you think nobody can understand you,
I can, and baby, I do.
Let me make a home for you in this world,
Pretty girl.

Such curiosity.
Answers bleed through your sleeves.
And every nerve screams
'Cause you know so well
How everyone feels
While no one can tell
Who you really are.
Beautiful mystery,
I know who you are, what you need.

When forever's too far away,
And you think nothing's ever gonna change,
And you can't wait to run away, baby, stay.
And when you think nobody can understand you,
I can, and baby, I do.
Let me make a home for you in this world,
Pretty girl.

Stay... (6x)

Forever's not so far away,
And there's nothing that a love can't change.
We're destiny, you and me, so baby stay.
And when you think nobody can understand you,
I can, and baby, I do.
There's a place for us, a place for us in this world,
Pretty girl
