

She Forgot

Chris Norman

It's 5.25 on a rainy Saturday morning
She packed her things and left without any warning
Somehow I couldn't get through to her anymore
I didn't know what to do, she was heading out the bedroom door
She turned around and said to me, we had our time
But I ain't got nothing but her on my mind

She forgot to give me another chance
She didn't remember the times we used to dance
She forgot to cry a little bit that night
She can't recall our love, no she didn't even try
To give me another chance
To reminisce our days, she said it doesn't make sense
She forgot to give me just another chance
She forgot to give me another chance

Last night I talked for a while to her answering machine
Time flies by in photographs, don't think she's thinking about me
She didn't return my calls, I guess I won't see her again
Maybe she's spending her time with all her new found friends
She's turning circles in my head tonight
No I ain't got nothing but her on my mind

She forgot to give me another chance
She didn't remember the times we used to dance
She forgot to cry a little bit that night
She can't recall our love, no she didn't even try

Maybe she wakes up on her own with nobody else by her side
But I can't stop thinking about who's the one
Who's the one instead of me - tonight

She forgot to give me another chance
She didn't remember the times we used to dance
She forgot to cry a little bit that night
She can't recall our love, no she didn't even try
To give me another chance
To reminisce our days, she said it doesn't make sense
She forgot to give me just another chance
She forgot to give me another chance