

The Summer Wind

Chris Norman

Looking back on things I've done could it be that I was wrong

Friends I knew through all those years
Now the summer's come and gone

But oh the summer wind
That blew so soft against my face
All too soon it would be over

A stolen kiss and a lover's smile
We saw the future through your eyes

Those salad days that never end
A golden sun was in the sky

But oh the summer wind
That blew so soft against my face
All too soon it would be over

Ooh the summer wind
Mmm the summer wind
