

Too Much (and not enough)

Chris Norman

Night after night I've been burning the candle Telling myself that you're too hard to handle

Infatuation
Has taken the best of me
Stuck in frustration
I'm falling

What we got is
Too much and not enough
Too deep and superficial
You are my strongest weakness
You're so good,
I gotta give you up
You're too much and not enough

I step on the gas going faster and faster
To yearn for your touch is to flirt with disaster
To pull away is more than
I can master

Don't want to lose you
So I chose to let go of you
Oh how I wish that I meant it

What we got is
Too much and not enough
Too deep and superficial
You are my strongest weakness
You're so good,
I gotta give you up
You're too much and not enough

Too much confusion
Delusions of what could be
Too many promises
That you could never keep

Where do we go from here
Fade out or disappear
When all I wanna do
Is to be here with you
Give me a reason to stay
Or get out of my way

It's just...

Too much and not enough
Too deep and superficial
Too much and not enough

You are my strongest weakness
You're so good, I gotta give you up
